

For Immediate Release:

CXP choose AMI Enterprise Discovery

Paris - May 30, 2006 "CXP: For 30 years, the truth, the whole the truth, and nothing but the truth in the world of "software package" analysis and evaluation". www.cxp.fr

CXP was founded in 1973 by a number of visionary leaders from the data-processing world who needed a solution to help the decision-making process when choosing "professional software".

They identified the lack of any real credible external authority regarding software evaluation and needed a source that could provide an independent, reliable and unbiased opinion of the different solutions on the market.

For 30 years, their mission has remained the same. The originality of their method can be described in three words: expertise, pragmatism, independence.

CXP lists 7,000 software packages in its knowledgebase, evaluates 400 references each year and provides more than 300 customer services annually.

Their authoritative knowledgebase consisting of independent reports/ratios and accompanying documentation is available to customers via the CXP internet site. Taking into account the significant increase in the volume of information stored in recent years, it became essential to offer users of their services a powerful and easy to use search solution, not simply just a search engine but an effective solution enabling users to easily locate the desired information.

CXP chose AMI Enterprise Discovery. AMI Enterprise Discovery version 4.0 is the result of more than seven years research and development in the field of the search for information. Developed on a patented "signature calculation" technology it offers high level performance with very low maintenance costs.

The relevance of the answers is always very high limiting considerably the results which are useless and providing precise points of further navigation if required. The comprehensive functionality of the software - categorisation, clusterisation, extraction of concepts and named entities and its ease of integration also proved to be clear winners in CXP's evaluation of the technology.

Alain Beauvieux, Director General of Go Albert SA said “We are very honoured with CXP’s decision which in the world of professional data processing is a very high quality reference indeed. This application shows our development know-how with regards to ergonomics, functional capability and integration and provides new proof of performance regarding AMI Enterprise Discovery as a result of which we have announced version 4.0” of the product. In phase 2 of the project the enterprise search functions of AMI Enterprise Discovery will be made available to subscribers via the dedicated CXP extranet.

Ends./
